As the USCB Historic Beaufort Campus becomes increasingly Arts focused, the first group of graduating seniors from the Studio Art program are showcasing their works at the first ever Senior Art Exhibition featured at USCB. According to Professor Jon Goebel, ♦ This show is a chance for the community to see the high caliber of work our Studio Art program is producing as a result of our talented students and faculty. ♦ The students are equally excited about the prospect of this exhibition, as evidenced by senior Amanda Marlowe, "This exhibition is my gateway to being a professional artist."  ♦  Marcus Young, Cordes Marshall, Calle Schrader, Sarah Kennedy, Vanessa Burchfield, Ashleigh Williams, <img alt="student-art-sarah-kennedy" data-bbox="72 235 220 269"/>Amanda Marlowe, and Sanders Black will have works on display through April 22nd. ♦ This event is open to the general public and free of charge. The program prepares graduates both for professional careers and graduate programs in fine arts. The combination of an intensive liberal arts background with studio arts proficiency skills and practical experience helps students investigate and integrate their knowledge and perspectives in today's technologically changing world and gives them the background needed for a career in the arts.
