Is it a Van Gogh or just pretending to be? "Masterpiece Masquerade" will once again be the feature exhibit for Beaufort Art Association's All-Member Holiday Show. Each year BAA invites all 200 of their members to exhibit in their downtown gallery. Over the years Masterpiece Masquerade has been a favorite subject for artists and art patrons. This year's exhibit will not disappoint. Artists were asked to pick their favorite master artist to emulate, or to recreate a masterpiece, adding their own twist. Either way, this December the BAA Gallery will be filled with Beaufort artists' own "masterpieces," reminiscent of those hanging art museums all over the world. There will be oils, acrylics, collage, drawings and mixed media.
