

Art League of Hilton Head presents Sharing the Spotlight, Paintings by Nancy Vineburgh & Joan Moreau McKeever this May at Art League Gallery. Both artists are from Connecticut and now live in Belfair, but each traveled entirely different roads to becoming artists. This show will encompass their shared love for the Lowcountry, along with paintings that divulge to the viewer the different times and places that they each hold dear.

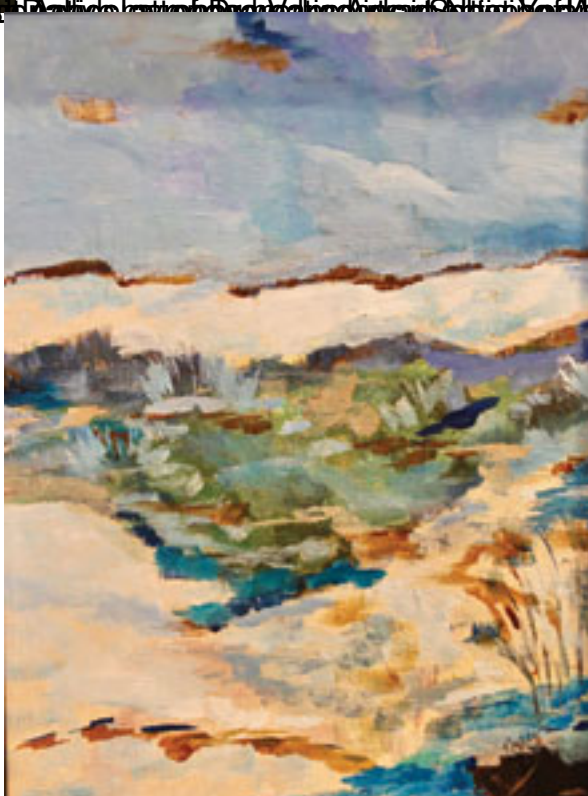

Nancy Vineburgh was born in New Haven, CT. She received a BA in Art History from Connecticut College, studied art at the University of Grenoble in France, and received the Dora Brahms Fellowship while attending Columbia University School of Architecture's Historic Preservation Program. Nancy began painting in 2014, after retiring from the Center of the Study of Traumatic Stress in Bethesda, MD where her work helped military families cope with the effects of war. "In hindsight, beginning to paint was probably my way of creating a private space of beauty and solitude following a stressful and intense 12-year work experience," states Nancy.

J.M.W. Turner, Rain, Steam, and Great Bridge, 1844, oil on canvas, Tate Gallery, London

J.M.W. Turner, Rain, Steam, and Great Bridge, 1844, oil on canvas, Tate Gallery, London