

PJ and Play returns to the USCB Center for the Arts

USCB Center for the Arts is proud to announce the return of the popular family event P J and Play. Two Bean Productions' play based on Judy Blume's contemporary classic "Tales of a Fourth Grade Nothing" will be performed on February 4, at 7 PM.

Nine-year-old Peter Hatcher struggles with an end-of the year assignment to write about the most important thing that happened to him during fourth grade. This is a daunting task, given how much took place that year. Particularly when dealing with his toddler terror of a brother, Fudge. Peter writes about this brother's refusal to eat, to open his mouth at the dentist, a disastrous third birthday party, and getting blamed for Fudge knocking out his two front teeth. Peter always has to help out with Fudge, who gets all the attention, while Peter gets all the blame. It's enough to make a kid feel like a fourth grade nothing.

The final straw comes when Peter's pet turtle disappears... Peter has put up with Fudge for too long. How can he get his parents to pay attention to HIM for a change?

Please bring your child or children in pajamas, all ready for bed. We hope this event will serve as their bedtime story – only with live characters and lots of entertainment. All participants will receive a cookie and juice.

Fun for the Whole Family!

Ticket prices are $8 for children and $12 for adults. Tickets can be purchased at the door the night of the performance or in advance, by calling the USCB Center for the Arts (843) 521-4145.

USCB proudly supports the creativity, educational experience, and community spirit involved in Beaufort Children's Theatre productions.
