

A Winter's Tale

Written by Mark Shaffer

Tuesday, 25 February 2014 14:28

Freak Winter Storm Can't Ice The Beaufort International Film Festival.

By Mark Shaffer

Photos by Susan Deloach Photography (www.sdeloachphoto.com), courtesy of the Beaufort Film Society

A few days after the 2014 Beaufort International Film Festival, I'm talking to the heart and soul of the event, Ron and Rebecca Tucker. The Beaufort Film Society office (across Carteret Street from the festival venue at USCB) is eerily quiet and just a little sad. A tremendous amount of time, energy, effort and passion go into this thing every year. It's a little like having a child and watching it grow up and move out in the course of four days. But then there's always the next one.

A Winter's Tale

Written by Mark Shaffer

Tuesday, 25 February 2014 14:28

Does anyone get tired of the same old, same old? I'm not sure, but I'm sure that's what we're getting here. It's a bit of a cliché, but it's a cliché that's been around for a long time. It's a cliché that's been around for a long time. It's a cliché that's been around for a long time.

Does anyone get tired of the same old, same old? I'm not sure, but I'm sure that's what we're getting here. It's a bit of a cliché, but it's a cliché that's been around for a long time. It's a cliché that's been around for a long time. It's a cliché that's been around for a long time.

Does anyone get tired of the same old, same old? I'm not sure, but I'm sure that's what we're getting here. It's a bit of a cliché, but it's a cliché that's been around for a long time. It's a cliché that's been around for a long time. It's a cliché that's been around for a long time.

A Winter's Tale

Written by Mark Shaffer

Tuesday, 25 February 2014 14:28

With fitting celebration, we will be celebrating the lives of Susan DeLoach and Richard DeLoach. For more information, visit www.beaumontfestival.com and www.beaumontsociety.org.