

Artistically Lowcountry

Written by Editor

Tuesday, 12 March 2013 10:28 - Last Updated Wednesday, 13 March 2013 07:14

---

It's SPRING SHOW time again for The Beaufort Art Association. The exhibit, this year themed "Artistically Lowcountry," is the longest running non-juried art show in the Lowcountry.

To commemorate its 52nd year, some exciting changes have been made. In previous years the Spring Show has been held at the Green Street Gym (Charles Lind Brown Center). This year, it's moving downtown, to the Old Bay Market Loft. This venue will showcase the quality of the art work in a more gallery-like setting and give greater visibility for displaying the work. Though the non-juried section remains the focus of the show, an additional challenge of a Juried Exhibit had been added. Artists have the opportunity to have their work reviewed by a nationally known artist and a select few will be "juried" into the show.

The BAA is pleased to announce that artist Bill Davidson of Atlanta GA will be the juror for the juried portion of the show. Davidson is a nationally known

Artistically Lowcountry

Written by Editor

Tuesday, 12 March 2013 10:28 - Last Updated Wednesday, 13 March 2013 07:14

---

Read more Art