

From Cotton to Cows

Written by Editor

Tuesday, 05 November 2013 11:15 - Last Updated Wednesday, 06 November 2013 07:20

The Society of Bluffton Artists presents "From Cotton to Cows," a compilation of original oil paintings by Spring Island artist Kimberly Bisger, on display now through November 30.

Kimberly is an emerging artist whose work in oils has already gained regional prominence in South Carolina's Lowcountry. Her area of artistic concentration is centered on portraiture of animals, and she also recreates landscapes from the Lowcountry as well as from her travels abroad. Kimberly's love of the Lowcountry is showcased in this featured artist exhibit. Her artistic concentration is capturing the personality of animals and mood of landscapes with color and light. "I wanted this show to capture the character of the region, from the softness of a cow's nose, to the nostalgia of a roadside farm stand to the captivating color of the marsh landscape."

Kimberly's collectors and admirers praise her ability to evoke the personality of her animal subjects

From Cotton to Cows

Written by Editor

Tuesday, 05 November 2013 11:15 - Last Updated Wednesday, 06 November 2013 07:20

Images are not for sale. www.sobagallery.com is a non-profit gallery, designed to help artists and their work. All images are for informational purposes only. No part of this publication may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system, or transmitted, in any form or by any means, electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording, or by any information storage or retrieval system, without prior written permission from the publisher.