

Sue McCarthy, Beaufort Art Association's current featured artist, fell in love with South Carolina – Beaufort, in particular – when she read the first line of Pat Conroy's book, The Prince of Tides:
"My wound is geography. It is also my anchorage, my port of call."

With those words and all that followed, Sue dreamed of living in the South and more specifically, Pat Conroy's Lowcountry. It would be several decades before that would be possible but when the opportunity arose, she and her husband packed their belongings and moved from the mountains of New Hampshire to the beautiful Lowcountry. It's a decision that neither has regretted.

Sue's journey into art began with another impulsive act. In the early 1970's she and
