

A Jazz Concert featuring Marlena Smalls at USCB

Legendary vocalist Marlena Smalls and the Lavon Stevens Band will be performing at USCB Center for the Arts on February 26 at 8 PM and February 27 at 5 PM. Ms. Small's voice will take you on a musical journey celebrating Jazz and blues greatest performers such as: Sarah Vaugh, Etta James, and Big Mama Thorton. Another Lowcountry favorite, Vic Varner and Friends, will be opening the show. They will feature a Bossa Nova set with some early swing thrown in.

Marlena Smalls founded The Hallelujah Singers in 1990 to preserve the Gullah culture of the South Carolina Sea Islands. She is a sacred music vocalist, also singing gospel, contemporary, jazz and blues. Her programs for schools, reunion and meeting groups incorporate lecture, music and Gullah storytelling. Inducted into the South Carolina Black Hall of Fame in 2004, Marlena has performed for the Queen of England and many U. S. and international dignitaries. She has worked with film producer Joel Silver and Academy Award winners Tom Hanks, Demi Moore and Glenn Close. In addition to many productions for PBS, SCETV and GPTC, she is known to international audiences as Bubba's mom in the Academy Award winning motion picture Forrest Gump. Recently, Marlena Smalls and the Hallelujah Singers recently performed at the Smithsonian National Museum of African Art in Washington, DC. Their CD Juba is now sold in the Smithsonian gift shop.

When he is not directing the award winning BHS Voices, or the USCB's University Chorus, Vic Varner performs solo, duo and with his quartet as a singer and guitarist. Varner's style has been described as one of "calm elegance" as he crafts jazz and blues with his acoustic guitar and resonant baritone. His warm timbre and inventive phrasing transports the audience through diverse repertoire including A.C. Jobim, Nat Cole, the Mills Brothers, etc.

"Jazz Notes" is part of a series of performances to raise funding to bring national, regional and international performing artists to the Center for the Arts. Performances such as: the Columbia City Ballet's Nutcracker, Golden Dragon Acrobats, Beatle Mania-tribute band, and much more.
