

Editor-at-large Pat Conroy joins local Story River Books authors for a literary summit at USCB.

Ever wonder what it would be like to sit in an audience with an iconic public figure and a group of peers participating in a panel discussion, every word spoken by the panel shaping the views of its listeners? Such a narrative scene harkens straight from a clip in HBO's first episode of The Newsroom when Jeff Daniel's character 'Will McAvoy' rallies his best journalistic self to the surprise and adulation of the audience. The difference here? A lively discussion about works of fiction by South Carolinian authors on a stage with Pat Conroy.

The University of South Carolina Beaufort Center for the Arts in partnership with the University of South Carolina Press presents an evening with New York Times best-selling author and Story River Books editor-at-large Pat Conroy on Monday, December 8th at 6:00 p.m. with Beaufort writers John Warley (

A Southern Girl: A Novel

), Bernie Schein (

Famous all over Town: A Novel

), and Maggie Schein (

Lost Cantos of the Ouroboros Caves: Expanded & Illustrated Edition

) and artist Jonathan Hannah. USCB professor and poet Ellen Malphrus, soon to have her first novel published by Story River Books, will moderate this illustrious panel.

“This evening provides a tremendous opportunity to listen

Story River On Stage

Written by Editor

Tuesday, 02 December 2014 14:50 - Last Updated Wednesday, 03 December 2014 08:08

Mighty Rock Shaver www.rockshaver.com