Sophisticated Cuisine from the South Carolina Lowcountry

Celebrate Beaufort* is Coming Soon!

I'm tickled pink to announce that I've written a new cookbook. Book number three, Celebrate Beaufort, debut on April 19th will

. My dear friend, Susan DeLoach, did all of the food and location photography.

Celebrate Beaufort is a limited edition and will only be available through my website ( www.cateringbydebbicovington.com

) and at local bookstores and gift shops.

There will be lots of opportunities for Beaufortonians and visitors to purchase signed copies. Keep reading Lowcountry Weekly and watch social media postings for signing dates and launch events.

Celebrate Beaufort is a fun cookbook that features simple and delicious recipes and a few tales about my Beaufort experiences. In the meantime, Susan and I are sharing some of the recipes and food photos that didn't make it into the cookbook. We just plain ran out of space. Happy Cooking! (Susan DeLoach Photography)
