It's always a happy time when the pumpkin patch comes to Carteret Street United Methodist Church. Those beautiful pumpkins are the first sign of fall in Beaufort. Shortly after the pumpkins arrive, the leaves begin to change color, cooler weather starts coming in and we get to start nesting for the upcoming holidays.

This is the time of year to plan for Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's dinners and parties. Don't you just love the smell of your home when you're baking something spiced with nutmeg, cloves and ginger? Pumpkin dishes are homey and comforting. They're just what's needed after a long and hot Lowcountry summer. For the next two months, I'll be dishing out all kinds of holiday recipes and ideas. Be sure to check out the LCW Holiday Guide in this issue and the next three for even more recipes. Happy Holidays!
