Water Festival historians should make special note of Saturday July 26th as the day the Dragons laid claim to the most exciting, emotional and vivid daylight event of the festival.

While Dragon Boat Race Day debuted last year, the 2014 edition was bigger, better and louder in every way, offering the crowds along the seawall a full day of action, fun, thrills, spectacle and more than a few tears. By day's end there was no doubt that 2015 will continue the trend as the Dragon Boaters continue to raise money for local cancer patients and survivors.

Dragon Boat Beaufort was born out of the 2012 Beaufort International Film Festival following a
