

Tabby House is the Cat's Meow

Written by Diane Voge
Tuesday, 16 May 2017 11:40

Stanley cruises the open road in an RV with his people and his Labrador brother, stopping at state parks to volunteer. Chick changed her name to the more sophisticated Savannah Belle and set up housekeeping with her best friend on Society Hill in Philadelphia.

Closer to home, Emma left the small confines of the Tabby House desk drawer where she hid her sorrow at losing not one but two beloved humans for a spacious house on Callawassie. Princess comforted a job-seeking human every Friday morning until the nice woman came in with both a job offer and an adoption application. Toby escaped his new home to yowl at a neighbor's window down the street where, apparently, his last people had lived, moved, and left him behind.

These and over a thousand other cats have been adopted in the last four years through Tabby

Tabby House is the Cat's Meow

Written by Diane Voge
Tuesday, 16 May 2017 11:40

