

In a world of seeming disconnectedness, and racial tension among individuals, MufukaWorks proclaims that as a people we are “ONE BLOOD.” Elsie Mufuka, Director of MufukaWorks, LLC says, “we all go through trial moments, we all go through happy moments, we all go through sad moments, however we are all connected.”

Elsie Mufuka is a 2008 graduate of Coker College with a dual Bachelor of Arts degree in dance and communications, and is also nationally and internationally acclaimed in the U.S., South Africa & Europe. Mufuka was born in Beaufort, attended elementary school through high school in Beaufort, and has decided to give back to her community by living here and empowering individuals to discover their inner selves so that they can become special contributors to society as well.

While dance is considered an art, it also serves as an exercise for the body which brings therapeutic benefits to its participants.

Going through something in life? Have you lost a loved one? Has the embattled economy affected you or someone you know? Come experience HUMAN LIFE through HIGH ART DANCING of African, Ballet, Contemporary and more. Experience all dance cultures, not just one!

On August 14, 2010 at 7:00 p.m., MufukaWorks Dance will present a production that will help all of us to understand how connected we really are! The production will take place at the USCB

One Blood

Wednesday, 04 August 2010 11:16

Performing Arts Center, located at 801 Carteret Street, Beaufort, S.C. Tickets can be purchased online at www.mufukaworksdance.com .